

Abstract of the Disclosure

This invention relates to a method for preventing or delaying the progression of hormone receptor positive of hormone receptor unknown breast cancer in a patient by following estrogen antagonist therapy by subsequent therapy with an estrogen depleting agent prior to disease progression.